Whiteley on water

2 November 2013 - 23 February 2014

Presented in association with the Brett Whiteley Studio and the Art Gallery of New South Wales

Brett Whiteley (1939 – 1992) was an Australian artist who made works of art about the sea.

As a child Whiteley explored coves and bays. Explore in the Gallery to find the following things:

Beaches Birds Eggs Fish

Crabs Rocks Shells

Circle the item you did NOT find.

Did you find any sea shells? Use your pencil to create shading and details on the shells below.

Brett Whiteley used many different mediums to make works of art. These mediums include sculpture, oil painting, drawing, collage and etching (a type of printmaking).

Write the correct art making medium on the dotted line below each image.

Imagine that you have just arrived at this beach for a day of fun in the sun. What are you feeling?

Write as many words as you can in the box below.

What can you hear ?	What can you see ?
What can you feel ?	What can you smell ?

Brett Whiteley Bondi sunbather with sunglasses, brush and brown ink on white wove paper, Art Gallery of New South Wales, Brett Whiteley Studio

Keep cool in the sun by wearing trendy shades!

Draw your face wearing these sunglasses like the Bondi sunbather. Include other items that will keep you sun smart and safe.

Find this sculpture titled Shark female. Walk around the sculpture and point out features that remind you of a real shark. Remember NO TOUCHING, she may bite!

Brett Whiteley Shark (female) 1965, fibreglass, plaster, maplewood, chrome, copper, shark teeth, Brett Whiteley Studio

Make a drawing of your own female shark below. Perhaps she might like to wear a pretty outfit, a touch of makeup or some dazzling jewellery.
